Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 9-20-04 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1,4,5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The terms "significantly reduced " and "reduced increment" in claim 1 is a relative term which renders the claim indefinite. The terms are not defined by the claim, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention. It is not clear what the warp is reduced from and what values meet the scope of the claims.

Claim 4, it is not clear what "formed bodies " are being referred to and whether they comprise the AIN material of claim 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

5. Claims 1,4 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Harris et al (5,424,261), Chiao (5,540,884), Yasumoto et al (4,963,701) Sugiura et al (5,165,983) and Japanese document 08157265, each taken alone for reasons of record.

6. Claims 1,4 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a or e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Harris et al (5,773,377), for reasons of record.

The terminology "significantly reduced warp" and "reduced increment in warp" is considered qualitative and not sufficiently defined in the disclosure to patentably distinguish from the aluminum nitride bodies of the prior art. It is not clear how one of ordinary skill in the art could determine the amount of warp that would be required to be encompassed by the instant claims and how much warp is not encompassed by the instant claims. Differences in the processing parameters are also argued by applicants however applicants have not shown by way of tangible evidence that differences in processing parameters distinguish the claimed product from the prior art and that the claims reflect these differences. Use of a setter or a certain type of setter and other processing parameters are considered a process Limitations and do not patentably distinguish the claimed product. Furthermore, the Japanese document and Harris et al patents teach the use of setters. Applicants have not provided any tangible evidence that the claimed products are patentably distinguishable from the products of the prior art and that the claims reflect these differences.

In product-by-process claims, "once a product appearing to be substantially identical is found and a 35 U.S.C. 102/103 rejection [is] made, the burden shifts to the applicant to show an unobvious difference." MPEP 2113. This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102/103 is proper because the "patentability of a product does not depend on its method of production." In re Thorpe, 227 USPQ 964, 966 (Fed. Cir. 1985).
